

The Rockin' Adventures of Peter Rabbit Things to Think About

1. Sometimes people just need a little help to be able to accomplish something. Peter Rabbit and his cousin, Benjamin Bunny, worked together to dismantle the scarecrow so that Peter could get his father's guitar.

Think about a time you worked closely with your family, friends, or classmates to accomplish a big job or project. Did you work well together? Did you enjoy working together? How were the different responsibilities divided up? Could one person have accomplished the task alone? Write about this experience. Include as many details as you can remember.

2. If you were Mother Rabbit, what would you do with Peter Rabbit and his misbehavior? Write a letter to Mother rabbit telling her your reaction to her son, and give here some helpful suggestions that may improve his behavior.
3. Peter Rabbit was very fortunate to meet so many unusual and colorful animals at McGregor's Farm who gave his good advice. Describe one of these characters in detail. How helpful was this animal? What advice did was given to Peter Rabbit?
4. Peter Rabbit wanted to "follow in his father's footsteps" and become a singer. He always had a song in his head and a guitar to play. Do you believe that Peter has true talent or is he just fooling himself? What things should Peter do to measure his talent? Can you explain why Peter felt it necessary to repeatedly return to McGregor's Farm?
