

Aesop's Fables Writing Activities

1. Where's Billy? Billy's parents were always concerned that Billy would get lost or hurt. If you were a friend of his parents, what advice would you give to help them solve this problem? Be specific
2. It's your turn: You are Billy and you now realize that Aesop can talk and move. Answer the following questions:
 - What would you do? Would you be surprised and find your parents, or run away in fear?
 - Would you leave Aesop just as you found him, a statue?
 - Would you share what you learned from Aesop's fables and share how to bring him to life with anyone and everyone?

Convince yourself that your decision is the correct one for this discovery. Write your answer and include as many specific details as possible.
3. Create a Fable! You are the owner of television station "ESOP" and have developed a new show with the title "Create A Fable," which presents a new interesting storyline/tale each week. Let your creative juices flow. Make/Generate this week's episode using the following guidelines:
 - Characters
 - Setting
 - Problem/Conflict
 - Solution to the problem
 - Morale
 - Descriptive words